From the Director - Patrick Sheehy

The SCSP's Fall 2013 production of Office Hours by Norm Foster is now history — the cast and crew had a lot of fun doing it. Tried to get the actors to stretch themselves as performers by giving them more than one character to develop. In many cases, I saw a new side to several of the actors. We had good audience turnouts each night of the play and made some money— always a plus. Thanks again to my cast & crew!

A Few Words from the President

Hello Everyone,

Well, it February 6th and the SCSP Web site says auditions for our Spring 2014 show were January 27 & 28th. Sadly, there were no auditions on those dates since we don't have a Director or a show. We are, however, still looking for a show and a director. As a matter of fact, I am working quite diligently to cultivate a new director. But this situation makes me wonder... how have we arrived with no show and no director? On paper the Players are doing well, we've got a place to perform, a new stage, money in the bank and we just put on a show with a cast of 13 and which pulled in a considerable audience and netted us nearly $600. On paper we look like a group on the upswing, but still no Director and no show for Spring 2014. Hmm... what do you make of this balance sheet? I keep thinking about it all the time... I hope you do too.

On the plus side Scott Smith has volunteered to Direct our Fall 2014 show (BLESS YOU, SCOTT!). Perhaps things aren't all bad. But I'd really like to have a complete season (2 shows!) for 2014 -2015... can you help make that happen? Think about it.

Congratulations to the New Parents

The St. Clair Shores Players would like to congratulate new parents Rachel and John Robinson on the birth of their baby daughter Taylor Grace.

Ten fingers, Ten toes
She's laughter and teardrops
So small and brand new
And amazingly angelic
She's sent to bless you
She's one special Baby
The best of life's treasure
And will grant and bless you
Many hours of great pleasure.

Everyday, people are told they have a great speaking voice, without ever realizing there's an enormous voice over industry. Today, despite fluctuation in our economy, the profession is experiencing tremendous growth while at the same time embracing a broadening range of voices. Advances in technology and changes in the way information is presented continue to open new doors for voice over artists.

People from virtually all walks of life are turning to voice acting for supplemental or retirement income, or as a full time career. On Thursday, February 27, St. Clair Shores Adult & Community Education, in conjunction with Voice Coaches, will present Getting Paid To Talk, a single-evening, realistic and entertaining introduction to the world of voice overs.

Attendees will learn everything from the basics of getting started, working in the studio, effective demo production methods, and industry pros and cons to where to look for opportunities in and around their community and how to land the job. Attendees will also have the opportunity to record a mock commercial under the direction of a Voice Coaches producer. Regardless of motivation, Getting Paid to Talk is a great first step for anyone curious about Voice Acting.

Registration at least a week in advance is required. Enrollment is limited to 25.

For more information or to register by the enrollment deadline, call 586-285-8880. Class fee is $25.

Some interesting voice over facts:

- Less than 10% of the voice acting jobs available are commercials.
- According to Forbes.com, the average voice actor earns $50,000 to $80,000 a year.
- In most cases, a person's voice will portray the broadest voice age range well into adulthood.
- An increasing amount of voice over work is done outside of major markets.
- Many voice over artists do a portion of their work from home.
- Professional opportunities for voice actors are expanding dramatically.

Voice Coaches at voicecoaches.com provides industry-leading educational resources, training and professional development to individuals pursuing professional Voice Acting. We are an industry leader in voice over production, voice evaluation, one-on-one training, and demo development, providing services to clients across the United States, Canada and abroad.
